Availability of infrastructure, proximity to major cities, and a qualified talent pool have contributed to the city's rise as a base for IT sector.

4. History

Before Chandigarh became to what it is today, the city has a lot of pre-historic past attached to it. The city is believed to have been the home of the inhabitants of the Harappa civilization around 8000 years ago. Former Prime Minister Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru had a soft spot for the city of Chandigarh as he called it to be the dream city. Most of the historic actions witnessed by Chandigarh occurred during post-partition in 1947. The former province of Punjab was sliced between East Punjab (Hindu-dominated) in India and West Punjab (Muslim-dominated) in Pakistan. In order to give a new capital city to India's Punjab, the British carved out Chandigarh which was formed of 50 Pwadhi speaking village. The inception of the new state of Haryana in 1966 happened after which it was decided to give the majority Haryanvi-speaking people a new state – it was accomplished by carved out of the eastern portion of Punjab. The city of Chandigarh was declared as a Union territory after it was declared as the capital of Punjab and Haryana.

5. Cultural identity

The city of Chandigarh is mainly occupied by a large population of Sikhs, so the languages commonly spoken are Punjabi and Hindi. People hailing from different communities and cultures happily co-exist in Chandigarh and celebrate festivals with equal spirit. The population of Chandigarh usually wears a mix of Indian and Western attire. As far as customs and traditions are concerned, the people are very tolerant and observant.

13. Transportation hubs

The main airport in Chandigarh is the Chandigarh International Airport which is 12.7 km from the town and it takes about 28 minutes. It is located 11km from Chandigarh railway station and 7.6 km from Chandigarh bus station . To reach these places, you can hire a taxi that will make your journey very comfortable. Chandigarh railway station is situated between Panchkuia and Chanigarh and offers train services across the many cities in India. When you get to the station, you can board a train to your destination. Chandigarh bus terminal has many buses where you can board one to take you to your destination as this is the major bus station of Chandigarh.

Index*14. Transportation cost

Chandigarh has better train connection than that of the busses. The bus terminals are hectic and very cumbersome. Chandigarh Transport Undertaking is the administration unit in Chandigarh and is responsible for coming up with the fare rates. The bus rates are 15 rupees for three kilometers, 20 rupees for ten kilometers and 25 rupees for more than 10 kilometers. There are also daily and monthly passes. The daily pass costs 50 rupees and the monthly pass costs 500 rupees. These passes are quite cheap when compared with the daily fares. With the passes, you can travel around the town anytime and countless times so long as you have the pass with you. It is therefore advisable to take the passes especially if you plan to travel a lot around the city as they will save you a lot of money and time. The minimum fare of auto rickshaw is 14 rupees for the first kilometre with 7 rupees per kilometre thereafter.

Index*15. Baggage allowance

Most trains and buses usually have limited space for baggage. It is advisable to take a taxi if you have baggage because many taxis have enough space to accommodate your luggage. The public buses will end up charging you an extra fee Rs. 10 even for just one suitcase. The other option are the MTC buses that have a permitted limit for luggage and will charge you if have more than two bags, you are supposed to pay 50 rupees. There also delivery services in this town. If you do not want to travel without your luggage, you can give your luggage to one of the delivery companies with the address of the place you want them to be taken to. The delivery companies ensure safe and timely delivery of your luggage.

22. Travel essentials

Chandigarh has a standard voltage of 240 volts with a frequency of 50 hertz. This voltage is same with that of countries like Australia, UK and Europe.. Most sockets in this city are the type C (ungrounded two pin plug) and type D (grounded or earthed three pin plug). Visitors from countries with same voltage as that of the city will only require a plug adapter to fit the different type of plug configuration. Visitors from countries with a different voltage from that of the city will require a voltage converter or transformers. These help converting the voltage to match that of the appliances and prevent them from blowing up. However, many appliances like laptops and phone have dual voltage or in built voltage and might not require the voltage converters or the transformers.

Conclusion – Why to select this destination

Why choose Chandigarh ? The first planned city in India, the safest city of the country, a clean and less congested city, the city of rock gardens and parks – the reasons to visit Chandigarh are numerous. It is a far cry from the rest of the cosmopolitan and big cities in India for its organization, maintenance, and facilities. Designed by the Swiss architect Le Corbusier, Chandigarh boasts of pedestrian friendly sectors, lakes, panoramic nature, self-contained areas with each one having its own shops, religious centers, health care facilities, parks, academic institutions, and residential areas. The city is extremely people-oriented with wide roads. The Nek Chand Rock Garden is not just another garden with cobbled paths and stone sculptures. It is the fantasy of a common man that turned waste materials into stunning pieces of art. It is also a reminder that nothing is useless in this world if you put your imagination into work. The city is a visual treat for fans of architecture. The carefully planned administrative and residential buildings, roads, parks, gardens, lakes, and sectors are all masterpieces in themselves. A number of museums and art galleries offer the best of the modern as well as ancient cultures. The sprawling parks of the city with its verdant landscape, themed gardens, green belts, water features, and public places for leisure and entertainment are examples of how the great architect had envisioned the coexistence of man and nature in a modern environment. Chandigarh is a very affluent city and there is no dearth of opportunities to splurge. The city is home to most of the leading brands and stores.
