1. Geographical location

Nice (also called Nizza by many people) is the capital of the Alpes Maritimes département in Southern France. It is located in the Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur region, some 30 kms from the Italian border. It has a small city centre but a sprawling urban area that covers an area of approximately 721 square kilometers in all. Nice occupies a truly marvelous location and natural views, having grown over the centuries around the large bay of the Mediterranean Sea.

4. History

Nice was discovered by the Greeks around 350 BC and was given the name 'Nikaia' meaning "City of Victory". Later, in 154 BC, the Romans took over the region who settled further uphill around the present day Cimiez. For many centuries, Nice kept swinging between the French and the Italian dominion. It was only in 1861 that Nice ultimately became a part of France. In the mid-18th century, the rich Englishmen arrived in the city and thought it to be an excellent winter retreat. Throughout the early 20th Century, Nice was the exclusive winter playground of the rich and famous. However, it gradually came to be known as a summer holiday spot for those who wish to relax on the beaches and enjoy the Mediterranean lifestyle.

5. Cultural identity

Nice is a typical beach-city and radiates a relaxed atmosphere of its own. However, the city has more to it than just its natural beauty. It is home to numerous museums, art galleries, historical monuments, cathedrals and parks that date back to the 16th Century. Food and drink also plays one of the most important roles in the city's culture. With an excellent seaside location, Nice boasts of an abundance of fish of various kinds. The folklore of Nice is rich and the region's calendar is laced with various festivals and carnivals. All the main French festivals and events are celebrated by the locals with great pomp and show.

Christmas and New Year's Eve

Christmas and New Year's Eve is celebrated with great pomp and show everywhere in the city, in hotels, restaurants and even in the streets. The fireworks display is worth a sight.

12. Key local guides and tours

Although Nice is best explored on your own, having a local guide will help you gain a more immersive experience. Typical day tours on the French Riviera involve gazing out over the deep blue waters of the Mediterranean, walking through the city's streets, exploring the historical buildings, indulging in outdoor activities and relishing the rich cuisine of the Mediterranean. Most popular private tours are French Riviera Sightseeing Tours, Nice Cycle Tours, Nice Food and Wine Tours, Riviera Bar Crawls and others that take you through the natural beauty, gastronomy, history and traditions of Nice by foot, by car or by boat. They can be customized as per your preference.

i) Nice cycle tours: Cycling is a healthy and fun way to experience the city of Nice. There are various guided tours in the city that support ad hoc guided day rides, local amateur road races, triathlons etc. they also usually include one hill climb up to the Chateau Hill, where you'll have awesome panoramic views of Nice.

ii) Riviera Bar Crawls: Bar crawling is among the best experience on the French Riviera to explore the city and interact with people from all over the world.

iii) Food and Wine tours: If you wish to taste your way through local specialties of Nice, Food and wine tours fit the bill just right. You not only get a feel for the flavour of traditional cuisine, but also the unique history, culture and heritage of the city.

- Tour Guides

i) Michel Legrand Michel has been providing guided tours on the French Riviera since the last 15 years. He is a National licensed tour guide & lecturer and specializes in historic tours.

ii) Robert Dahan Robert is a licensed tour guide with a rich experience in the country. He specializes in all kinds of tours around French Riviera and can also arrange transportation on request.

iii) Yvonne ERBE Yvonne is a licensed tour guide with 6 years of experience. She specializes in nature and sightseeing tours on the French Riviera.

iv) Jean-François SÉNÉCHAL Jean has been offering sightseeing tours all over the Riviera and Provence since 2005. He focuses on helping his clients with the rich French culture, history, art and gastronomy.

13. Transportation hubs

Airport The Nice Côte d'Azur Airport (NCE Airport) is the main airport in Nice. It is the second largest airport in France and has international flights to Europe, North Africa and the United States. The airport is located at a 20-minute bus ride from the city center of Nice. The Airport Express bus (98 and 99) takes around half an hour and costs €6 one way. The local bus service runs from 05:30hrs to 20:05hrs, takes around 20 minutes and costs €1.50. Taxis are also readily available. Taxi fares start around € 26 to get you to the centre of the city.

Railway Station Gare Nice Ville is the central train station in Nice. It is located in the city center and is about a 15-minute walk to the beach.

Bus Station The central bus station of Nice (Gare Routiere) was closed in January 2011. The new bus station is still being built near the airport but work is still in progress. Most of the buses that run along the coast (Monaco, Cannes, Antibes) leave from an assortment of stops near the former Gare Routiere.

Port The port of Nice is one of the most important harbors on the French Riviera. It is situated just 4 miles from the Nice Cote d'Azur International Airport.

14. Transportation cost

The public bus and tram system of Nice ("Lignes d'Azur") connects most parts of the city. "Noctambus" night service is also available from 21:00hrs-02:00hrs. The Lignes d'Azur network offers single-rate fares for both buses and trams. Tickets are sold at Lignes d'Azur offices within the city center or can be bought from the driver. Single bus fare starts at €1.50. If you intend to use public transport a lot, it is advised that you buy the 10-trip ticket for €10 (available at tram stops). Depending on your stay, you might also like getting a 'Week Pass' for €15, or a 'Month Pass' for €40. Trains run generally until near midnight and are often the only practical means by which to return to Nice in the late evening. Unlimited travel train passes start at €15. Taxis are readily available but they work from fixed cab ranks so they won't respond to being flagged down. Taxi fares within the city are usually less than €20, to Antibes €50, Monaco or Cannes approximately €70 and St Tropez €250.

15. Baggage allowance

There is enough space in local trains for standard luggages to fit in and while there is no set limit on the amount of baggage you can carry on public transport in Nice, it is recommended that you travel light. Backpacks are most convenient to carry around the city.

20. Tourist benefits

VAT rate in Nice ranges between 10-20%. International travelers can reclaim the Value Added Tax paid over goods provided they spend a minimum of €175 (in one shop) on goods that they export within 90 days of their purchase. To avail this benefit, all you are required to do is look for stores with tax free shopping signboard, get the VAT reimbursement receipt from the store at the time of your purchase, fill it out carefully and get it stamped from the customs authorities on your final departure. Global Refund is the most common in the city. Kindly note, there is no refund without completed forms, receipts attached and customs validation.

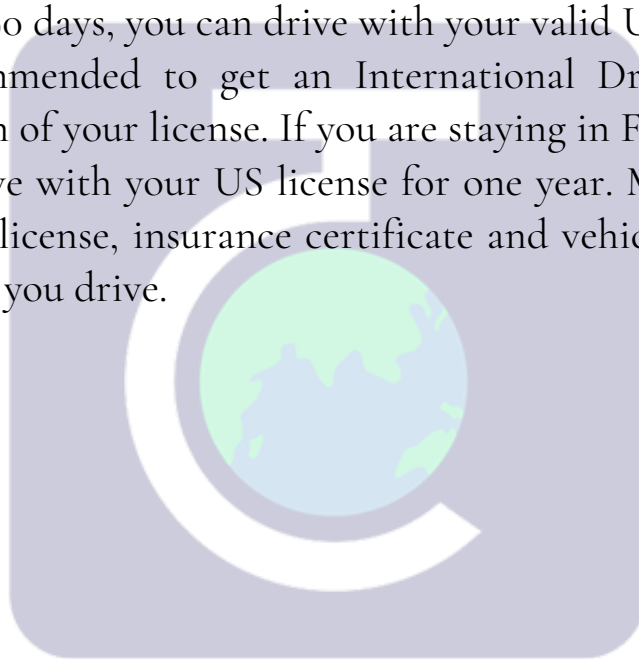

21. Essential local apps

'Sortir by Nice-Matin App' is a mobile app to help users with local cinema listings, fairs, expos, concerts etc. 'SNCF Direct App' is another useful app to check train times in Nice. For bus times and schedules, you might like the 'Moovit App' that gives you itinerary options in the blink of an eye!

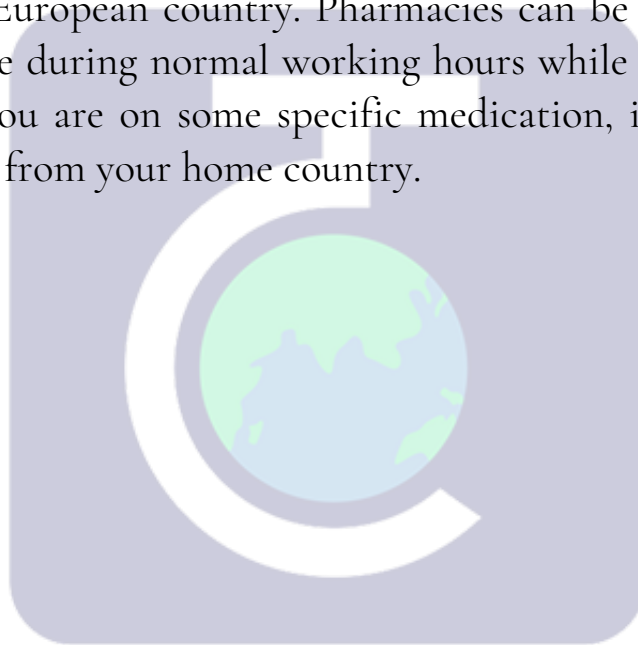

22. Driving

Nice is crisscrossed with poorly indicated one-way streets, weak road signage, parking problems and detours that your GPS cannot spot. Hence, driving in the city center can be somewhat intimidating. However, if you still wish to drive around the city, make sure you are familiar with the road safety rules and traffic laws in the region. The legal driving age in the city is 18. If you are staying in France for less than 90 days, you can drive with your valid US driver's license. It's also generally recommended to get an International Driving Permit, which provides a translation of your license. If you are staying in France for longer than 90 days, you can drive with your US license for one year. Make sure you always carry your ID Card, license, insurance certificate and vehicle registration (carte grise) with you when you drive.

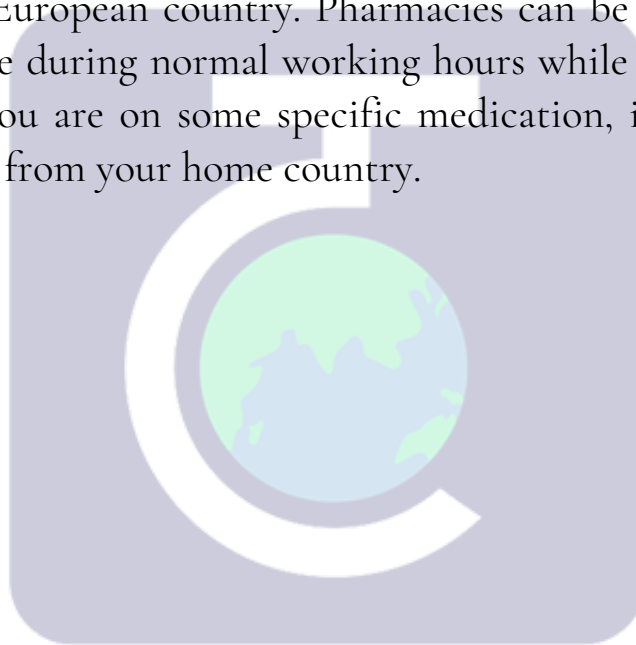

23. Travel essentials

The standard electricity supply in Nice is 220-240 volt - 50 Hz AC. The standard electrical socket (outlet) in the country is of "Type C" Europlug and the "Type E" and "Type F" Schuko. If the plug of your appliances does not match the shape of these sockets, you will need a travel plug adapter during your stay in Nice. Most battery chargers have a built-in voltage converter, but you might need one if coming from a non-European country. Pharmacies can be easily found in Nice. Most of them operate during normal working hours while some are open for 24 hours. However, if you are on some specific medication, it is advised that you carry your medicines from your home country.
