5. Cultural identity

Dwellers of Fez are very warm and welcoming. If you happen to have a conversation with the owners of the stalls at the Medina of Fez, they may invite you for a cup of tea, typically a mint tea. The traditional dress for men and women in Morocco is called djellaba and Fez is the only Moroccan city where majority of the population still dons it. Fez is history lovers' paradise. There are so many hidden architectural treasures in the city that time is never enough to explore all. No wonder the city is known as the cultural city of Morocco. The rich culture, a perfect leading example of medieval times, plethora of opportunities to unleash raw talent, widely acknowledged Sufi festival, the Fes el Bali and the Medina of Fez sums it up.

11. Key local guides and tours

One needs to hire a local guide to explore the imperial city of Morocco. To get through the Medina of Fez is a task and you totally deserve a tip of hat if you successfully explore the same without a guide. There are many hidden architectural treasures in Fez and without a local guide, it gets really hard to explore each one of them. Also, to have an insight of the rich culture, tradition and history of the city, one needs a guide.

12. Transportation hubs

Airport: Fes Sais Airport is about 15 kilometers from the city. Either hail a taxi or board a bus to get into the city. A bus ride to the city from the airport would cost you 4 MAD and would take around 40 minutes whereas a taxi ride would cost you around 150 MAD from the airport to the centre town and would take around 25-30 minutes. It's a fixed price. So, don't bother to haggle! It is advisable to travel by bus if you don't have too much luggage. Buy a ticket for Bus no. 16. The bus leaves from the stop in every one hour. Railway Station: The Fes Station is the main station of the imperial city of Morocco. There are secondary stations meant for local connections, but, the Fes Station is utilized for long-distance main-line trains. Bus Station: CTM is a bus ticket agency in the city of Fes and has bus networks throughout the country. CTM coaches (intercity buses) run from the Gare Routiere Principale in the north of the city. Another very important bus stop in Fez is Rcif Bus Stop, which is located in Boulevard Ben Mohammed El Alaoui.

13. Transportation cost

Taxi: Be vigilant of boisterous taxi drivers in Fez! The Moroccan city offers you two types of taxis, Petit and a Grand one. Petit taxis can accommodate maximum three passengers and a driver, and would cost around 20 dirhams for a 10 minute ride. Don't be surprised if you're asked to pay more at night. From the train station to Bab Boujeloud (34.061715, -4.984053), a petit taxi would cost more or less 10 MAD. Grand taxis (regular Mercedes taxis) don't have meters. But, the fares are regulated. It is advisable to check the rates with tourist board. There is no upper limit for the no. of people that these taxis can accommodate as people would squeeze in, and the taxi driver would try harder and harder to accommodate more people. It would cost you around 150-200 Moroccan dirhams per seat for a ride from Fez to Casablanca. Bus: Exploring the city via bus is the cheapest option in the city of Fez. CTM is the best and safest company for arriving and departing Fez. Bus number 19 and 29 will commute you between Riad RCIF and the McDonalds/Careffour/Barcelo hotel. It would cost you around 3.50 MAD for the journey.

Index14. Baggage allowance

Prefer exploring the city by either taxi or a cab when carrying a large suitcase. Large suitcases are allowed in the buses but refrain yourself from travelling via same because pickpockets are the regular passengers. One can carry a backpack easily when exploring the city. When riding on the city bus, no additional fee is charged for carrying extra luggage but it is advisable not to carry bulky and too many baggage. Else, keep an eye on your luggage.

It is advisable to hire a guide if you're not confident enough to walk through the medina of Fez. If you covet for a traditional tannery experience then visit Chouara Tanner. You can buy high quality leather goods which are a lil expensive. Also, visit Chez Hamidou near the tannery to buy some high quality and beautiful cushion covers. Fez is popular for its Moroccan rug.

19. Tourist benefits

On most goods and services in Morocco, 20% is the standard rate of Value Added Tax which is charged. At retail stores, the price is inclusive of VAT. If a tourist makes a purchase of $50.00 or more at a gift store that has an agreement with the VAT authorities of Morocco, then by filling a tax invoice at the store and getting it stamped, tourist is eligible to claim VAT refund at the airport before departure. All he need to do is represent the form and goods at the airport. Don't pack these gift items in your luggage and keep it in your hand luggage. Also, a tourist is exempted from VAT tax on tourist services like hotel accommodation and meals, if he pays with foreign currency.

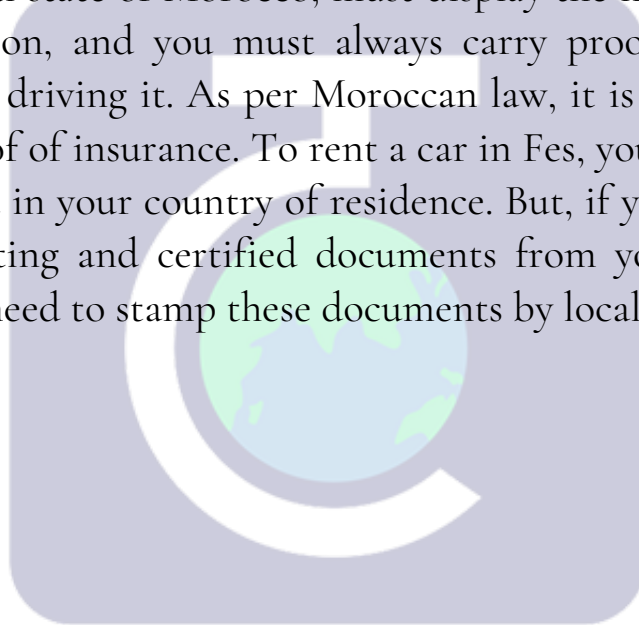

20. Essential local apps

Download Uber to book a cab or a taxi. To notify your Facebook friends if something goes wrong, download Yalahwy and your friends will mobilize to come at your rescue.

21. Driving

Driving in Fes may not be a good experience for you if you are from a country where drivers abide by the traffic rules and ensure disciplined driving on the road. Seldom people in Fes abide by the traffic rules and driving here may be hazardous to your health because the roads are not well maintained in the city and people drive haphazardly. Every vehicle from another country, which is driven in the imperial state of Morocco, must display the nationality plate of its country of registration, and you must always carry proof of ownership of a private vehicle while driving it. As per Moroccan law, it is mandatory to have a Green Card as a proof of insurance. To rent a car in Fes, you must have a driving license which is valid in your country of residence. But, if you are driving a local car, you need a writing and certified documents from your acquaintance for driving his car. You need to stamp these documents by local city council.

22. Travel essentials

When travelling to Morocco, make sure that you pack a travel adaptor or portable charger. Egypt uses two pronged, rounded plugs with the standard voltage of 220 V. The power sockets are of type C/F. The standard frequency is 50 Hz. As per the theory obligatory in Morocco, you need to carry your official ID at all the times.

23. Essential clothes

The standard frequency is 50 Hz. As per the theory obligatory in Morocco, you need to carry your official ID at all the times.

24. Local currency

Moroccan Dirham is the official currency of Morocco. It is denoted as MAD or Dhs. 1 US Dollar is equal to 9.73 Moroccan Dirham.

25. Change vendor's commission, ATM charges

Authorized banks and Bureau de Change remain the best source of exchanging currency. Nonetheless, one can change currency at hotels too. Also, for convenience, private exchange agencies are located at several areas downtown and in the suburbs. The exchange rate remains constant everywhere. For currency exchange in Fes, get some new “home currency” as torn notes and notes with pen marks are not eligible for exchange. No commission is charged for currency exchange. Also, being a close currency, you can't get dirhams into the country. You need to exchange currency on arrival. There are plenty of ATMs in the city. Recheck with your bank for information regarding the commission on withdrawal of money. Every time you swipe card in different bank's ATM, a fee up to 5% or more is charged. 3000 dirhams is the cash withdrawal limit for a day. Working days for banks in Fes are from Sunday to Friday. On Saturday, banks remain closed . Typical banking hours of banks are from 08:15hrs to 15:45hrs.

26. Staying connected

Be careful while using your “home sim” in Fes as there is very little regulation on pricing, and telecommunication companies tend to charge hyper-inflated prices. INWI is one of the largest telecommunication companies in Morocco. In the airport arrival hall, the company has a booth, where you can purchase a sim card for your unlocked phone. One GB data, 3 hours of local calls and 1000 texts will cost you around 120 Moroccan dirhams. The other two main providers are Maroc telecom and Meditel. A copy of passport needs to be attached with the contract for documentation.

27. Time Zone

Morocco time zone: Western European Time Zone (UTC+00:00).

Index28. Languages

Darija (the Moroccan Arabic dialect) is spoken widely in Fez. People of Fez are more or less fluent in French too. English is developing especially among the younger generations. Many people in the countryside outside Fez speak Berber dialects.

29. Political Scenario

During parliamentary election in November 2011, the moderate Islamist Justice and Development Party (PJD) lived the unquestionable victory by doubling the number of seats since 2007. Mohammed VI came to power after his father, King Hassan II's death in 1999. His approach is more democratic and liberal unlike his father. Morocco's political system is wisely budding from a strongly centralized monarchy to a parliamentary system. Much of the executive power lies with the king, but parliament is elected democratically.

30. Economic Scenario

Tourism, education and investment opportunities are three main contributors to the Gross Domestic Product of Morocco from Fez's end. The University of Al Qarawiyyin sited in Fez, is the oldest university in the world and is operational till date. Fez has a plethora of investment opportunities for both visitors and inhabitants.

Index31. Religious belief

Religious practices of people in Fez involve a syncretism of Islam and traditional folk beliefs. Majority of people living in Fez are Muslims and the vast majority of Muslims are Sunni belonging to Maliki School of jurisprudence. Christianity is worshipped as the second largest religion in Fez and it is existent in the country before the arrival of Islam.

32. Visa requirements

Every visitor apart from British, Canadian, other EU and USA nationals require an entry VISA to enter the diverse country, Morocco. All nationals mentioned before, don't need a VISA for the purpose of tourism for up to 90 days. If you are planning a stay which would last more than 90 days then a resident permit is required, and police department of your residential area in Morocco would issue the same. But, every visitor including the nationals mentioned before, need a passport valid for the duration of stay in Morocco. No additional period of validity beyond this is required. Ensure that your passport isn't damaged and it is stamped when you enter the country. It is advisable to keep 2 pages free in your passport for arrival and departure stamps. In certain cases, it has been observed that applying and receiving a visa can be a process of 20-30 days. Hence, it is essential that you check the timeline with the relevant authority in the country where you intend to make the visa application.

33. Essential vaccination

Every traveler should be up-to-date on routine vaccinations before every trip. These vaccinations include measles-mumps-rubella (MMR) vaccine, diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis vaccine, varicella (chickenpox) vaccine, polio vaccine and your yearly flu shot. No specific inoculations are required before your trip to Fes. Malaria exists but only in rural areas of Chefchaouen Province, where there is a very limited risk; here insect protection measures are a must.

34. Theft and Safety

Trivial crimes are common in the Moroccan city, Fez. These crimes include bag snatching, pickpocketing and filching away of visible jewelry and bags by the motorcyclists. Be cautious when asking for directions and using ATMs as there are high chances occurrence of crime and aggressive begging. Scams like replacing the inferior goods for the actual goods bought, harassing the tourists and especially woman solo traveler is very common in the city. Don't travel alone and inform police if somebody harasses you. Stay Safe!

36. Accessibility

Fez is not ‘differently-abled’ friendly. Seemingly it needs a lot of improvement with respect to infrastructure to ensure easy accessibility for disabled. Majority of the tourist attractions in Fez are not accessible by “differently-abled”. Also, cobblestones and potholes are common throughout the city due to poor and old infrastructure. Manual wheelchair is a better option to explore this area. Also, there are very limited wheelchair accessible restrooms in the city of mystery. Traveling via bus or train would be difficult but grand taxis serve as the most convenient mode of transportation for differently abled ones.

Index38. Do's and Don'ts

Dos • Haggle for the best price in Fez. • Carry minimum cash and valuable items whilst exploring the city. • Always keep an eye on your luggage when moving places. • Drink fresh orange juice and mint tea. • It is advisable to carry a certified doctor's prescription along with the medicines to ensure hassle free import clearance. Don'ts • Wear short skirts or indecent clothes. • Hug or kiss in public areas, especially near religious places. • Drink and smoke publicly. • Travel alone at night. • It is advisable that do not carry unsealed/ unbranded food articles as the same may be banned for import.

39.Tipping basics

There is no pragmatism intrinsically regarding tipping in Fes. Moroccans themselves leave a few dirhams on a dinner bill of 150 dirhams. In the tourist areas, many of the high-class restaurants will add 10% to the bill, therefore check your bill. If you aren't satisfied with the services rendered then don't tip. On contrary, if you receive great services then give more than 10% of the bill. If you hail a meter-run taxi then tip the taxi driver by rounding up to the nearest 5 dirhams. Hotel maids are paid below par. If you're glad by their services then don't forget to place 15 dirhams inside the pillowcase for a day's service. Tour guides are expected to tip around 25 dirhams for a day. Employees and staff in Fes are underpaid. So, be considerate while tipping and don't offend anyone.

40. Pet info

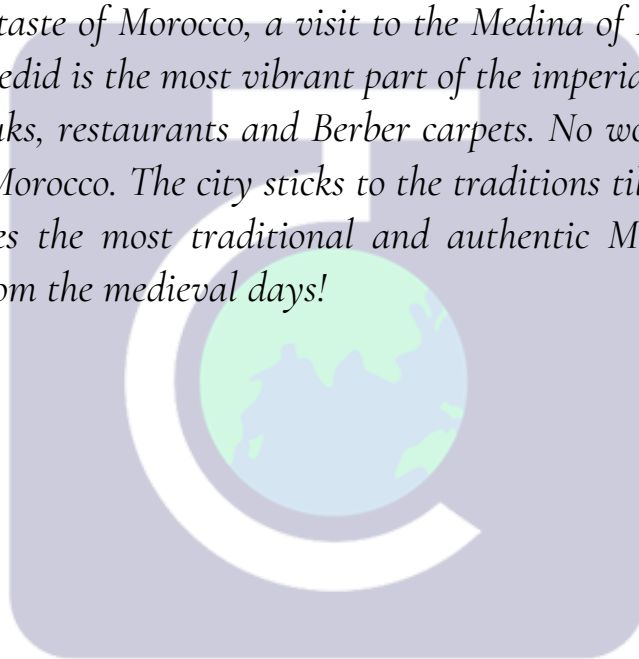

There are a number of hotels in Fes that allow you to get your pet along. If your pet meets the following requirement then Morocco won't quarantine your pet:

- Pet Microchip: It is recommended that your pets should be micro chipped with an ISO 11784/11785 pet microchip that has 15-digits and is non-encrypted or should have an identification tag before they are separated from you. Always register your contact information when travelling with pets, so that it is easy to identify your pet.
- Vaccinations: Your pet cat or dog must be inoculated for rabies between 30 days and 3 months prior to entry into the country.
- Veterinary Certificate for Morocco: If you're travelling from the United States or Canada, a USDA (or CFIA) licensed veterinarian should complete a Veterinary Certificate for Morocco within 15 days of travel for endorsement by the USDA or CFIA. For other nationals, the Governing Authority of the respective country is responsible for the import and export of animals, and endorsing the forms by the Moroccan Embassy in the respective country. This needs to be done within 3 days of entering the country. A copy of the Rabies Certificate should be presented for endorsement along with the forms. Post this, it must be sent to the nearest consulate of Morocco with a check for $33.0 and a postage paid return envelope. Hence, your pet passport for your dog or cat to enter the country is complete.
- Before entering Fes, ensure that your dog or cat is treated with any internal or external parasite infections.
