3. Significance

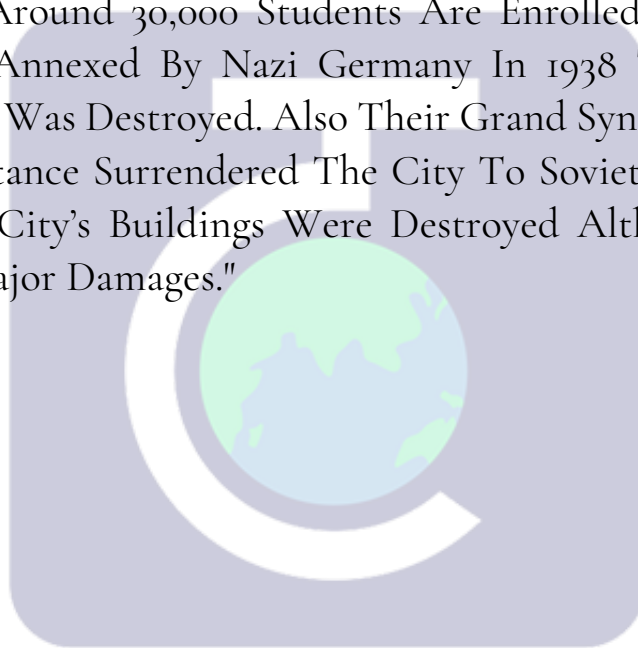

"Graz Is The Capital Of Styria And The Second Largest City In Austria After Vienna. Graz Has A Long Tradition As A "university Town": Its Six Universities Have More Than 44,000 Students. Its "Old Town" Is One Of The Best-preserved City Centres In Central Europe. Politically And Culturally, Graz Was For Centuries More Important For Slovenes Than Ljubljana, The Capital Of Slovenia, And Still Remains Influential. In 1999, Graz Was Added To The UNESCO List Of World Cultural Heritage Sites, And The Site Was Extended In 2010 By Schloss Eggenberg. Graz Was Sole Cultural Capital Of Europe For 2003 And Got The Title Of A City Of Culinary Delights In 2008."

Index

4. History

"The City Has Been Continuously Inhabited Since The Middle Ages. The Earliest Documentation About The City Dates To The 12th Century When It Was Under Babenburg Rule. Graz Was An Important Commercial Centre During This Time. The City's First University Was Established In 1582 By Archduke Karl II. The University Was Shut Down In 1782 And Reinstated In 1827 As Karl-Franzens Universität. Today Around 30,000 Students Are Enrolled At This University. After Austria Was Annexed By Nazi Germany In 1938 The Thriving Jewish Community Of Graz Was Destroyed. Also Their Grand Synagogue Was Burnt. In 1945 The Graz Resistance Surrendered The City To Soviet Troops. During The War Many Of The City's Buildings Were Destroyed Although The Old City Survived Without Major Damages."

5. Cultural identity

"Graz is famous for its architecture particularly from the renaissance period. Some of the highlights are its late-gothic design cathedral and the baroque Mausoleum located next to it. Also well known are its 5 story Landeszeughaus (provincial armory) and the Landhaus. There are many museums and galleries of interest in the area including Joanneum which is the city's largest provincial museum. Kunsthaus (House of Modern Art) constructed in 2003 displays a unique architecture. The city also celebrates many events like the Styriarte dedicated to early music, Steirischer Herbst that spotlights theater, performing arts, literature and music. There are also concerts like the Jazz Summer and Eggenberg Palace Concerts. There are several event centres in Graz like Kunsthaus, Stadthalle, the Opera, the theatre and forum stadtpark which host several cultural events during the year."

6. Natural resources

There are many natural attractions in and around Graz including beautiful gorges and streams. At a distance of 6 km from the city is Kesselfallklamm where you will find untouched woodlands, gorges and streams where you can trek. The paths are easy enough for children too. Also close is Lurgrotte cave which is Austria's largest dripstone cave. Calcium deposits over millions of years have created beautiful natural formations in the cave. The caves extend from Peggau to Semriach. On the outskirts of the city is Adventure Park Graz where you can do forest climbing, tightrope walking, archery and walks on the natural trails. Located 45 km from Graz is the village of Piber where the Piber Federal Stud is located. Austria's major natural resources are mineral deposits, such as iron ore, lignite and magnesite. Other resources include salt, tungsten, timber, copper and zinc.
